E. C. WALTON.

W. P. WALTON.

Is a Candidate for Railroad Commissioner for the 2d District, subject to the will of the democracy.

THERE is pending before Congress a bill providing for the recall and destruction of all greenbacks, treasury notes of $5 and under and the issue in the same amount and denominations of what is called "post check money." It is proposed that the new notes shall be substantially similar in design with the present notes, with the addition of blank spaces on which any citizen can write in the name of any person to whom he desires to send the bill, and, thereupon, it becomes a check on the United States treasury, payable only to the person named in the space provided. On presentation of the note at any postoffice or sub-treasury the check note is honored by the delivery of another post check note to the payee and that in turn passes as currency, the note presented being destroyed. The advantage claimed for the post check currency is that it can be sent through the mails without danger of loss, and without the expense of purchasing a postal order or registering a letter, and the revenue derived by the affixing of the postage stamp would be larger than is now derived from the sale of postal money orders, the expense of which system is very great.

THE Lexington Democrat thus pitously wails: One by one the roses fade, drop by drop the well runs dry. Hope that has sprung eternal in the Lexington breast has been dashed to the earth and there is no help in us. The Senate refused yesterday to advance the capital removal bill to its third reading and it is now as dead as a door nail. Senator Allen made a fight for the bill, making one of the best speeches of the session for it, and failing, tried to delay action, but it was love's labor lost and the vote resulted 23 to 13 against the third reading. The action is to be sincerely regretted. The people want their capital removed from the present out-of-the-way place and they want it to be located at Lexington, but the Senate refused to give them a chance and that ends the matter for the present, the more's the pity.

ADLAI E. STEVENSON, vice president with Cleveland, and Bryan's running mate two years ago, points the way to a new democratic victory by recalling how all the later triumphs of the party have been won. Recites the Tilden platform of 1876 as a suitable model to build upon in 1904. It is as follows: "We denounce the present tariff levied upon nearly 4,000 articles as a master piece of injustice, inequality and false pretense. It yields a dwindling, not a yearly rising, revenue. It has impoverished many industries to subsidize a few. It prohibits imports that might purchase the products of American labor. It promotes fraud, fosters smuggling, enriches dishonest officials and bankrupts honest merchants. We demand that all custom house taxation shall be only for revenue."

THE Grand Lodge at Nashville decreed that Master Masons, who are engaged in selling or manufacturing intoxicating liquors will, after Jan. 1, 1903, be ineligible for membership in the Masonic lodges within the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Tennessee. This rule applies not only to new members, but to those already in the order.

GOV. BECKHAM, like many of his admirers, is unalterably opposed to an extra session. Let the Legislature get a move on itself during the remainder of the session, adjourn on the date prescribed and its members go away back to some remote point and be seated.

"How to be happy, though married," is the subject of a lecture soon to be delivered at Danville. Every married man in Kentucky would like to hear it and standing room will more than likely be hard to obtain.

HON. G. G. GILBERT's speech against government's policy in the Philippine Islands was so good that yesterday's Courier Journal printed it in full.

WHITELAW REID, don't mind expenses. He will pay $20,000 for a house to live in during his six weeks' stay in London at the coronation.

THE Harrodsburg Sayings is no more. Messrs. Pulliam & Hutton, the proprietors, have named their paper The Harrodsburg Herald.

POLITICAL.

Ben W. Hall has just been re-appointed postmaster at Mt. Sterling.

The Senate, by a vote of 23 to 13, killed the Barton Capital Removal bill.

The State Senate passed the House bill repealing the McCain Tobacco law.

Ex-Congressman Pugh says now that he is not a candidate for Congress in the Ninth.

A postoffice has been established at King, Knox county, and John E. King will be appointed postmaster.

The president nominated Lucien M. Young to be commander in the navy.

The Senate at Washington agreed to vote on the ship subsidy bill March 17.

The House adopted the first section of the Revenue Bill, which fixes the State tax at 50c on the $100.

The House at Frankfort in committee of the whole decided to report the revenue bill without amendment.

The nomination of Frederick A. Van Rensselaer to be postmaster at Owensboro, was sent to the Senate.

The president has assured E. T. Franks he will be allowed to serve four years more as collector at Owensboro.

Gov. Beckham appointed William F. Howe to succeed the late W. F. Graham as county judge of Fleming county.

Six democratic State Senators united with the republicans and defeated the proposition to advance the School Book Bill.

After a lively debate, the State Senate, by a vote of 22 to 15, defeated the Farris "County Unit" Local Option Bill.

Pressure is being brought to bear on Harry S. New, of Indianapolis, to accept the position of 1st assistant postmaster general.

Representative Babcock will not accept re-election to the chairmanship of the republican congressional campaign committee.

Roosevelt received the Boer representatives as private citizens and informed them that this country will not interfere in the South African war.

Republican Congressmen are at logger-heads on the Cuban Tariff bill. President Roosevelt is reported as determined to let Congress go its own gait.

Texas populists repudiate the action of National Chairman Joe A. Parker in transferring the convention to Memphis, and insist that it shall be held in Louisville.

With the death of J. W. Dant, the pioneer distiller of Marion, dies one of the oldest brands of whisky in existence. It was established 76 years ago and is well known to almost every whisky dealer.

The Spanish War Claims Commission decided that the Federal government was not liable to any of the crew who were injured or to the heirs of those who were killed in the blowing up of the Maine.

George M. Boyd, an insurance agent at Owensboro, committed suicide by taking morphine.

Conditions almost approaching a famine have resulted from the heavy fall of snow in parts of Pennsylvania.

Filipino insurgent leaders are resorting to deception to encourage their followers. One of them has issued a proclamation saying there is civil war in the United States and that 1,600 regular soldiers were killed in a battle in Chicago. Another leader has issued a circular in which he asserts that Russia is preparing to fight the United States.

Granville P. McDowell, a prominent citizen of Clay county, was found near Burning Springs unconscious. He had a severe cut on the side of his head, and his arm and side were badly bruised. He died a short while after he was found. He had been in Macombester that day and was returning home. It is suspected there was foul play, but there is no clew to his assailant.

DANVILLE AND VICINITY.

"Faust" will be presented at the Danville opera house Tuesday night.

Millard Allen, formerly of Hustonville, has accepted a good position with M. J. Farris.

C. S. Ison sold a pair of mules to Henry Vanarsdale for $310. He also bought a pair from Ben Bright for $300.

Dr. Pentecost, the noted London evangelist, will shortly begin a series of meetings at the Second Presbyterian church in this city.

Miss Maggie Gray is dead at Brumfield. Mrs. James Minor, of the same community, died very suddenly of heart failure. She is survived by her husband and three children.

J. P. Harbison has bought an interest in the clothing establishment of W. S. Center. Mr. Harbison has been connected with the Globe Clothing House for several years and is a splendid business man.

Sam Lyons, the laundryman, is bald, as are many other good men. A man in Denver had written him that he will grow a full head of hair on him for $250. Mr. Lyons is a bachelor and is seriously considering taking the treatment.

There is talk of boring for oil on the Perryville battlefield. It is not generally known that a well was sunk in that territory during the war, but nevertheless it is a fact. Squire Bottom made a contract with New York parties and the hole was 500 feet deep when the forces of Buell and Bragg met there. On the morning preceding the bloody fight, the drillers, including the head promoter, left Bottom's where they were boarding, for the well. Nothing has since been heard of them. Repeated letters addressed to the head man in New York, brought no response. Some of the old machinery is still on the Bottom farm.

RYME OF THE PRESIDENTS.

First stands the lofty Washington, That noble, grand, immortal one.

The elder Adams next we see, And Jefferson makes the number three.

Then Madison is fourth you know, The fifth one on the list, Monroe,

The sixth and Adams comes again,

With Jackson seventh in the train. Van Buren eighth falls into line

And Harrison makes number nine.

The tenth is Tyler in his turn,

And Polk, eleventh, as we learn.

The twelfth is Taylor in rotation,

Fillmore, thirteenth, in succession.

Fourteenth, Pierce has been selected;

Buchanan, fifteenth, is elected.

As sixteenth Lincoln rules the nation,

And Johnson, seventeenth, fills his station.

The eighteenth then is Grant, you know,

And nineteenth, Hayes, from Ohio.

Then comes another Buckeye son,

Garrison, the loved and martyred one,

Whose term was filled by Arthur tho'

When Cleveland comes as twenty-two

Then Harrison as twenty-third

When Cleveland once again is heard.

As twenty-five, McKinley great,

He too, has shared the martyr's fate.

And though the deepest grief is felt,

We shall the gallant Roosevelt.

DANGER OF COLDS AND LAGRIPPE

The greatest danger from colds and lagrippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous malady. It will cure a cold or attack of lagrippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Craig & Hocker, druggists.

G. N. Kingan, of Ewing, has caused consternation among the oil operators in Allen county by appearing at Scottsville with 99 year leases on 1,100 acres of the best oil territory in the county.

The leases were taken by Mr. Kingan's father 37 years ago.

You will never wish to take another dose of pills if you once try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easier to take and more pleasant in effect. They cleanse the stomach and regulate the liver and bowels. For sale by Craig & Hocker, druggists.

MATRIMONIAL.

Rice W. Johnson and Miss Verda
Samuels were married at Pineview.

At Laporte, Ind., Miss Louise Swift,

aged 61, was married to Wm. Haynes,

26.

Milford Kidd, aged 22, and Miss Maggie S. Padgett, just 13, were married at W. G. Padgett's yesterday.

Handsome Miss Mary Daviss Duder-

der, who spent most of her life here,

was married at LeRoy, Ill., last week to Mr. Frank Carr, a young business man of that city. Miss Mary was an exceedingly bright, pretty girl and has a legion of friends here who congratulate her husband and wish her a long and happy married life.

The following letter was received by

R. L. Slade, general organizer of the Endowment Rank, K. of P., from Mrs.

Pauline M. Bremer:

"Please accept my most grateful

thanks for the prompt settlement on the certificate held by my late husband,

E. M. Bremer, of $1,000, who died Feb.

5, 1902. I am also indebted to your efficient secretary at this place, Mr.

Barnes Weareo, for his kindness in preparing the proofs of death. I have nothing but praise for the rank and the order, of which my husband was an enthusiastic member."

HOW TO CURE THE GRIP.

Remain quietly at home and take

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed and a quick recovery is sure to follow.

That remedy counters any tendency of the grip to result in pneumonia, which is really the only serious danger. Among the tens of thousands who have used it for the grip, not one case has ever been reported that did not recover. For sale by Craig & Hocker, druggists.

Thirty firms, employing 400 painters, accord to the demands of the men at

St. Louis and signed the wage scale.

Children often inherit feeble digestive powers and colic of a more or less severe character results, when food is taken

which is at all difficult to digest. WHITE'S
